GENERAL

1.	Molotov again seeks French support on German rearmament question:
25X1A [Ambassador Bohlen has reported another attempt by Foreign Minister Molotov, in a 2 September interview with French ambassador Joxe, to win French support for the Soviet policy of opposition to German rearmament. Molotov expressed the fear that Germany would break out of "the shell of EDC" and embark on a militaristic course. He stated that the Soviet Union was primarily interested in safeguarding itself from Germany and preventing German rearmament.
	Joxe reiterated the French position that the German problem was not one to be discussed by France and the USSR alone, and that there was no possibility of dividing the Allies on this question.
	Sador Vinogradov in Paris have approached Joxe during the last two months with similar arguments on the German problem.

Although an open rift is not expected at this time, disagreements between the shah and Zahedi, whom the monarch does not fully trust, will probably increase. 25X1 10. Anglo-Egyptian talks on Suez base seem headed for deadlock: Egyptian vice premier Nasr has indicated to Caffery that he would accept an agreement 25X1A with Britain which allowed one year for the British to evacuate troops from the Suez base in addition to a five-year agreement covering base operations. He also agreed to modify his position on the procedure for gradually reducing the number of technicians at the base. Nasr emphasized that these concessions were "his last word." An official of the British embassy in Cairo, on the other hand, believes Anglo-Egyptian talks are "still in a pokergame stage" and that the offer of a five-year duration will be lengthened if Britain stands firm. The British embassy also discounts Nasr's statement that political opposition makes it impossible for the Egyptian military regime to accept a longer agreement. -7-25X1A 9 Sept 53

25X1A

The position as outlined by Comment: the British official would support an intention to remain adamant on a duration period of ten years for the agreement.

There is no indication, however, that the Egyptian military regime is willing to go much beyond its present position.

WESTERN EUROPE

	11.	Rome government seeks Italian de facto "occupation" of Zone A of Trieste:
25X1A		According to a high official of the Rome Foreign Ministry, a de facto occupation of Zone A of the Free Territory of Trieste by Italian forces on the same terms as Yugoslavia's present "occupation" of Zone B would satisfy Italian public opinion. Such a move, he told Ambassador Luce, would also strengthen the Rome government, pave the way for Tito-Pella negotiations, and enable Premier Pella to continue pro-NATO policies when parliament reconvenes on 22 September.

The Foreign Ministry official believes that Pella would order the withdrawal of the troops dispatched to the vicinity of the Yugoslav border if he were assured of the West's immediate acceptance of his plan. He stated that otherwise Pella would probably resign or be defeated on a vote of confidence, either of which might result in Italy's withdrawal from NATO and an increase in neutralist and extreme rightist influence.
